FULL-COLOR ADS IN SESSION NOTEBOOK

One of the most valuable take-aways of our annual workshop is, literally, the one thing every attendee takes away with them: our session notebook. It contains the complete schedule (with descriptions), faculty bios, and handouts and notes for the sessions. We're offering full-color pages near the beginning of the book for your ads. This is a great place for publishers and conferences to advertise—but it's for anyone offering professional services or products geared towards writers.

SPECIAL ATTENDEE SECTION IN SESSION NOTEBOOK

MWW is a place to make valuable connections, but it's impossible to spend time with every other attendee. Now you can make sure you don't miss anyone by buying a business-card-size ad to promote yourself—whether it's focused on your book, your editing services, or simply a way to share your contact information or blog with everyone else who attends. Design an ad or simply send a high-quality scan of your business card. NOTE: these ads are black and white/grayscale only. Attendees can also purchase full-color ads, but the business card ads are available only to workshop attendees.
